EDITORIAL NOTE.

THE present issue of "CARMENT'S DIRECTORY" will be found to contain all the advantages of the publication for 1888. We have kept almost entirely on the old lines, feeling assured that the success of previous years' issues has been due to the complete form in which the information is annually presented.

In point of circulation, accuracy, and completeness, our "DIRECTORY" maintains its reputation—having a much larger sale, and possessing more information, than any other publication of the kind in the district.

Some months ago we were honoured with a communication from the Parliamentary representative for Mid-Lothian, who accepted a copy of our 1888 "DIRECTORY." Mr Gladstone's acknowledgment will be found on next page.

We again tender our best thanks to those friends and correspondents who have been so ready to assist us, and to the Editors of the various newspapers and journals, who have so favourably reviewed our work in the past.

THOMAS KEMP,

Editor "CARMENT'S DIRECTORY."

DALKEITH, December 1888.

Carment's Directory.

IN acknowledging a copy of the last issue of "CARMENT'S DIRECTORY," Mr Gladstone wrote the Editor as follows :—

"HAWARDEN, Sept. 10th, 1888.

"DEAR SIR,

"I thank you for the work you have kindly sent me. It adds another to those recollections of Dalkeith, which I have so much reason to retain with pleasure.

"Your faithful and obedient,

"W. E. GLADSTONE."

The General Town Mission.

This Mission was organised in 1846, with the object of extending the knowledge of Divine truth among the inhabitants of Dalkeith and vicinity by employing a missionary whose duty it is to visit, and read the Scriptures. Meetings are held in the Douglas Memorial Hall, Tait Street, which was built and presented to the Society in 1887 by George Douglas, Eskbank. The affairs of the Mission are conducted by a Committee, composed of the ministers of the town, being subscribers, and members of the various religious denominations.

Missionary—James Fleming.

Secretary and Treasurer—Robert Wight. President—George Douglas.

Whitehill, Cousland, and Millerhill Mission.

This Mission is in connection with Buccleuch Street U.P. Church, and is carried on by a student from the United Presbyterian Theological Hall, who, during the summer months, devotes a good deal of time to visitation, both in Whitehill and Cousland, and in the winter spends the Saturdays in either place, and also conducts services on the Sabbaths. A singing class is conducted at Whitehill each week. The student also conducts a meeting at Adam's Row, Millerhill, on alternate Sundays to that of Cousland, at 2.30 P.M. A Band of Hope is also held weekly, at Millerhill.

Tract Society.

This Society was originated in 1837, since which time the tracts of the Scottish Monthly Tract Society have been regularly circulated in the town and neighbourhood. It is supported by voluntary contributions, and has at present about 30 distributors, who circulate nearly 1700 tracts monthly. The distributors meet in the Class-Room of the Congregational Church on the first Wednesday of each month at 6.30 P.M.

Secretary and Treasurer—Robert Wight, South Street.

Indigent Sick Society.

This Society, instituted 1808, bestows its benefactions in cases which do not properly come within the scope of parochial aid. It is maintained by contributions made annually.

George Douglas, President.
Thos. Porteous, Secretary. George Gray, Treasurer.

BOTHWELL CASTLE.

BOTHWELL BRIDGE, which crosses the Clyde two miles north of Hamilton, is the scene of the encounter which took place, June 22, 1679, between the royal forces, under the Duke of Monmouth, and the Covenanters, on which occasion some five hundred of the latter were killed, and double that number taken prisoners. Shortly before the Covenanters had obtained a temporary victory (Sunday, 1st June) over Graham of Claverhouse at Drumclog, near London Hill. Drumclog is situated to the south of Hamilton, and on the confines of Ayrshire. A stone has been erected to commemorate the victory, and still within the last few years an annual sermon was preached on the field on the 1st of June.

A little farther on we reach the village of Borruwell, one of the favourite resorts of residents from Glasgow. It contains three churches, and a well-conducted educational institute. In the former manse Joanna Baillie was born, her father having been minister of this parish for many years.

The picturesque ruins of Bothwell Castle stand on the right bank of the Clyde, about a mile from the village. They exhibit the Norman style of architecture, and consist of a large oblong quadrangle, flanked towards the south, by two circular towers, covering altogether an area of 234 feet in length, and 99 feet in breadth. Some parts of the walls are 14 feet thick, and 60 feet in height. The fosse and new part can still be traced. At the east end are the remains of the chapel, with shafted windows, accompanied by a font, altar-stance, etc., in the open space beyond.

A circular dungeon, called Wallace's Beef-barrel, is still shown. The walls are now much dilapidated and covered with ivy, wild roses, and yellow wall-flower. The Clyde here makes a beautiful sweep, and forms the semicircular declivity celebrated in Scottish song as Bothwell Bank. A fog-house on the river's brink affords the best view of the ruins. The castle is the property of the Countess of Home, to whom the extensive estates of the family descended in 1857, on the death of her uncle, James, the fourth Baron Douglas, without issue.

LOCHLEVEN CASTLE.

THE place of imprisonment in 1567 of the unfortunate Queen Mary of Scotland. At Kinross small boats may be hired for visiting the ruins of Lochleven Castle. The castle is situated on an island about half-a-mile from the shore, towards the Kinross side. It is a place of great antiquity, and is said to have been built by Congal, son of Dongart, King of the Picts. It was granted by Robert III. to Douglas, laird of Lochleven, and in 1335 it sustained a memorable siege by Sir John Stirling, a partisan of Edward Baliol, who had recourse to the expedient of damming up the river that flows out of the lake, expecting thereby to raise the water of the loch so high that the inmates of the castle would be swamped. The plan succeeded so far, when fortunately, in an unguarded moment, the water was let loose upon the besieging party themselves, who suffered severely from the overflow. The story is given, with all the embellishments of romance in Sir Walter Scott's novel of The Abbot. Queen Mary's escape was accomplished May 2, 1568, and the following picturesque account of it is given by Sir Walter Scott in his novel above referred to. "At the dead hour of midnight, when all was silent in the castle, the page put the key into the lock of the wicket which opened into the garden, and which was at the bottom of a staircase which descended from the Queen's apartment. . . . The door of the garden, which communicated with the shore of the islet, yielded to one of the keys of which Roland had possessed himself, although not until he had tried several—a moment of anxious terror and expectation. . . . The sentinel, whose slumbering had withstood the whispering, was alarmed by the dash of the oars, and he called aloud 'Treason!' rang the bell of the castle, and discharged his harquebus at the boat. The ladies crowded on each other like startled wildfowl at the flash and report of the piece, while the men urged the rowers to the utmost speed. . . . 'I locked gate and wicket on them,' said Roland, 'and no boat will stir from the island this night, if doors of good oak and bolts of iron can keep men within stone walls. And now I resign my office of porter of Lochleven, and give the keys to the kelpie's keeping.' As the heavy keys plunged into the lake, the Abbot exclaimed, 'Now, bless thee, my son! for thy ready prudence puts shame on us all.'" The boat is said by general tradition to have gone ashore on the lands of Coldon, at the south side of the lake, whence the Queen was conducted by Lord Seton to Niddry Castle, near Linlithgow. The keys of the castle, which were thrown into the lake, were found by a young man belonging to Kinross, who presented them to the Earl of Morton.

ABBOTSFORD.

THE well-known residence of Sir Walter Scott, and now the property of the Hon. J. Constable Maxwell Scott, is situated three miles to the west of Melrose, on a bank overlooking the south side of the Tweed, which at this place makes a beautiful sweep around the declivity. On the way thither from Melrose we cross Huntly Burn, where a road strikes off on the left to Chiefs-wood Cottage, the favourite residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lockhart during Scott's lifetime.

"Here," says Mr. Lockhart in his life of Scott, "my wife and I spent the first of several seasons (1821) which will ever dwell in my memory as the happiest of my life. We were near enough to Abbotsford to partake as often as we liked of its brilliant society; yet could do so without being exposed to the worry and exhaustion of spirit which the family except Sir Walter himself."

A mountain brook, from which the house was named, finds its way from Caudsields Loch through the Rhymer's Glen, one of Scott's favourite retreats. The walk which he planned, and rustic bridge, may still be seen.

The first room into which we are ushered is the Study, which communicates with the library, and is in a sense the most interesting of all the apartments. Here may be seen the great author's small writing table, and his plain arm-chair covered with black leather.

The LIBRARY is the largest apartment. The roof is of carved oak, chiefly designed from models taken from Roslin Chapel. The collection of books amounts to about 20,000 volumes, many of them extremely rare and valuable. A list of these forms one of the volumes of the Bannatyne Club series. This room contains the fine bust of Scott, sculptured by Chantrey in 1820, and over the fireplace the full-length portrait of his son, Col. Scott, by Sir Wm. Allan. There are also interesting miniature paintings of Sir Walter and Lady Scott when young, and several popular relics.

The DRAWING-room is a lofty saloon, with wood of cedar. Its antique ebony furniture and carved cabinets are all of beautiful workmanship. This room, besides other family likenesses, contains the portrait of Scott painted by Sir Henry Raeburn. The others are of Cromwell and Hogarth, the latter painted by himself. There is also here the collection of water-colour drawings by Turner, designed for the illustrated edition of Scott's Provincial Antiquities.

KITCHEN GARDENER'S CALENDAR.

JANUARY.—This is the month for preparing early vegetables, whether by the hot-bed or in the natural ground. If you have any lettuce plants in frames, let them, whenever the weather is fine, enjoy the open air, and even in wet weather do not exclude the air altogether; but should the frost be rigorous, let them be closely covered up. If the weather be open, asparagus, radishes, carrots, spinach, parsley, &c., for early use may be put in preparation this month. The soil must be prepared for various crops, such as peas and beans; some kinds of the former may be sown in a favourable state of the weather.

Holidays are marked thus.*

FEBRUARY.—Dig and trench vacant ground, and prepare especially such ground as may be required for early crops. Choose southwardly exposed or sheltered situations for peas, beans, &c., and continue to sow them in favourable weather. Cut early kidney potatoes for seed, and start their growth by placing them in hot-beds. Care must be taken properly to protect and train cucumbers and melons. Asparagus to be forced. Mushroom beds may be formed, and the old ones carefully defended. In the beginning, or at any time during this month, you may make a hot-bed for early kidney beans. Sow the different kinds of small salading, such as cresses, mustard, radish, and lettuce, once a week, if the weather be open. Cauliflower plants, in frames, should have the free air every mild day, by taking the glasses entirely off. Cauliflower seed may be sown. Early cabbage, if strong in growth, should now be transplanted. Late cabbage may be sown.

APRIL.—Let the cucumber and melon hot-beds, which were made a month or two ago, be examined, in case they should not have attained the proper heat. Sow these plants early in the month; transplant lettuces; thin radishes; sow round radishes and spinage; plant out full crops of cabbages and savoy; still sow onions and leeks. Sow spinage for a succession crop in May and June; it will yet succeed. Where a constant supply of the plant is required, they ought to be sown once a fortnight, as they soon run into seed. Beet, if omitted previously, may still be sown. Plant slips and cuttings of kitchen herbs, but take care not to give too much water to thyme. Finish the grafting of all trees this month. Plant strawberries in edgings; add climbing plants of all kinds. Begin the hoe culture of killing weeds wherever practicable.

MAY begins on Wednesday—31 Days.

MAY.—Plant out cucumbers under hand-glasses. Plant now a full crop of kidney beans to succeed those of last month; and in wet days put in the principal crop of runners. Asparagus ought to be fit this month to be cut for use. In moist weather transplant such lettuces as were sown the two former months. Keep clean the beds of turnips, carrots, parsnips, onions, &c., and thin such as require it. Transplant spring sown cabbage and savoy for autumn use, also red cabbage. Plant out towards the middle or end of this month the gourds and pumpkins sown in April. Plant out tomatoes or love apples. Carrot seed may still be sown in succession; such as are sown in this month will be very acceptable.

JUNE.—Supply well the cucumbers in frames with fresh air and water. Transplant celery into trenches, to remain to blanch. Sow a full crop of turnips for autumn use; transplant leeks; keep up the crops of peas and beans; plant cabbages for use in autumn and winter; gather mint and other aromatic herbs for drying towards the end of the month. Transplant leeks, which in general will be of a proper size for this purpose, towards the middle or end of this month. Let a quantity of the broccoli plants, which were raised in March or April, be planted, finally to remain in rows two feet asunder. Transplant endive. Thin young wall fruit when required. Plant out seedling flowers, and cuttings of wallflowers, carnations, &c. Top peas and beans to assist the filling of the pods.

JULY.—Prepare ground for the autumn and winter crops. Plant your principal crops of savoy and winter cabbages. Transplant brocoli, and sow seed for a late spring crop. Plant late crops of kidney beans. Sow onions to stand the winter, but this not before the end of the month. About the middle of the month you may sow some carrots, which will come into use at Michaelmas, and continue good till the spring; the same remarks apply to turnips. Thin, transplant, and sow lettuces, winter spinach, and several kinds of radishes, particularly the turnip rooted. As celery is a water plant, and requires to grow quick, it should be kept alive by wet. Lift all winter onions that are full grown, and prepare mushroom spawn.

AUGUST.—Sow early and other cabbage seed to produce plants for the service of next summer; sow also red cabbage, and Dutch and cabbage lettuces on warm borders, for winter use; finish planting savoy; continue to sow onions, carrots, radishes, and cauliflowers; transplant celery into the trenches for blanching; continue to sow in succession several sorts of small salad seeds, such as mustard and cresses. If your cucumbers in the open ground stunt, curl, or canker, lay little bits of new tile under them. Gather herbs for distillation, such as the mints, penny-royal, &c. Plant lavender, rosemary, sage, hyssop, and other aromatic herbs. Take particular care now of ripening melons, and in dry weather give the advancing crops water.

SEPTEMBER.—This is the season for providing mushroom spawn, and dung for the mushroom beds. The spawn is found chiefly in dry old rotten dunghills; it is a white fibrous substance spreading in the dung. The spawn must be kept from wet. Plant lettuces in frames for winter use; transplant cauliflowers. The young cabbage plants which were sown the first or second week of August for an early crop next summer and autumn should be planted into nursery beds. Continue to plant celery in trenches, and earth up the plants as they advance. Continue to gather seeds. Cardoons, which will now have made considerable progress, must be earthed up for blanching, their leaves being previously tied up carefully and regularly. Cover asparagus with manure. Plant cuttings of gooseberries, currants, raspberries, and strawberries. Remove hardy evergreens, shrubs, &c.

OCTOBER.—Towards the end of this month, you may plant beans for an early crop the succeeding summer. The Mazagan bean will stand the winter best. Transplant lettuces for the winter service. Towards the end of this month plant some of the strongest cabbages in the place where they are to remain for early use next summer. Plant out early in this month any aromatic plants wanted, such as thyme, hyssop, sage, &c. Earth up celery on dry days. Clean water spinage. Collect and preserve flower seeds, and transplant rooted cuttings and layers. Dress wall trees and standards; and remove green-house plants to their winter shelter.

NOVEMBER.—Get everything out of the land this month which is not intended to stand during the winter. In the middle, or towards the end of this month, is a proper season to plant early beans, to succeed such as may have been planted in October. The same direction may be applied to peas. Broccoli may be laid down, and their heads pointed to the north, especially the high growing kinds. Where the asparagus beds were not cleaned and earthed during the last month, it must now be done. Artichokes should now receive their winter dressing. The beginning of this month you should take up carrots and other roots to be preserved in sand, &c., for the use of the kitchen during the winter months. After the middle, or towards the latter end of this month, according to the state of the weather, will be the time to put fires in the hot-houses, particularly in the evenings.

DECEMBER.—Remove decayed leaves from the cauliflower plants, and let the plants have free air during the day. If the weather be dry and open, radishes and carrots, for an early crop, may be sown. Keep up the succession of peas; the kind called hotspur is one of the best for this season. Plant beans now, if you have not planted them earlier. Attend carefully to have the mushroom beds defended from frost and wet. Take advantage of the first day, if not frosty, to earth up such of the celery as may be in a fit state for it; and see that the plants are pretty dry before you begin earthing. Carefully examine fruit which has been laid up in the house.

ON THE DEVON.

THE scenery of the "Vale of Devon" is justly celebrated. The river Devon in its lower course flows principally through the County of Clackmannan, in which are situated the towns of Alloa and Tillicoultry. At the distance of other three miles is the town of Dollar, containing an academy, founded by the late John Macnab, a native of the parish. Castle Campbell, an old fortress of the Argyll family, looks down on the village from the top of a high and almost insulated rock. A considerable number of years ago Castle Campbell was sold to Crawford Tait, Esq. of Harviestoun, father of the late Archbishop of Canterbury, and it is now the property of James Orr, Esq. Four miles east of Dollar is the romantic spot called the Rumbling Bridge, where there is a good and comfortable hotel of the same name. This scene takes its name from a small narrow bridge seen underneath the new bridge across the Devon, as if some one had dropped it into the cleft, and it had got fixed between the rocks. This is the original Rumbling Bridge, across which it must have been no pleasant operation to ride or drive. Of the other Falls of the Devon to be witnessed here, the next and least effective is "The Devil's Mill," which may be reached by a footpath among trees close to the edge of the river. About a mile below is "The Cauldron Lion," a very striking scene, and one of the finest waterfalls in Scotland. At two bounds the river clears its way into the vale below. "The clear winding Devon" has been made the subject of a beautiful lyric by Burns. Miss Charlotte Hamilton (afterwards M. s. Adair), the lady on whom the song was composed, was at that time residing at Harviestoun, near Dollar.

PROBABLE WEATHER FOR 1889.

The dates given here denote when bad weather may be expected.
The intervals denote cessation of bad weather.

JANUARY.—Between 3rd and 5th, stormy—8th and 10th, strong winds and snow or rain—between 15th and 17th, stormy and snow or rain—between 23rd and 25th, strong winds and snow or rain—between 28th and 31st, gales and snow or rain—between 31st and 2nd February, stormy. Mean temperature, 35°. Evaporation is least this month.

FEBRUARY.—Between 4th and 6th and 7th and 9th, very stormy and wet—between 12th and 14th and 14th and 16th, very stormy and snow or rain—between 19th and 21st and 22nd and 24th, very stormy and snow or rain—between 26th and 28th, stormy. Mean temperature, 37°.

MARCH.—Between 4th and 5th, snow or rain—between 10th and 12th, wind and rain—between 17th and 19th and 19th and 21st, gales and rain—between 23rd and 25th and 25th and 26th, strong winds and rain—between 31st till 2nd April, gales and rain. In this month the dew point rises only to 4°.

APRIL.—Between 8th and 10th, stormy and wet—between 14th and 16th, some wind and rain—between 21st and 23rd, strong winds and some rain—between 24th and 26th, stormy—between 28th and 30th, very stormy and wet. Temperature about 13° higher than in January.

MAY.—Between 6th and 8th, some wind and rain—between 12th and 14th and 14th and 16th, stormy and some rain—between 18th and 20th, stormy—between 20th and 22nd, stormy and some rain—between 25th and 27th, stormy. The atmosphere attains its greatest dryness this month. Frosty nights are not uncommon, and do great injury to the fruit blossoms.

JUNE.—Between 4th and 6th, likely thunder—between 7th and 9th, very stormy and wet—between 12th and 14th and 14th and 16th, very stormy and thunder—between 21st and 23rd, wind and rain—between 25th and 30th, thunder and rain. Mean temperature, 57°.

JULY.—Between 1st and 3rd, stormy—between 6th and 8th, wind and rain—between 10th and 12th, stormy—between 12th and 14th, thunder and rain—between 18th and 20th, wind and rain—between 27th and 29th, some wind and rain. The warmest month in the year. Mean temperature is 25° above January. When the thermometer rises to 80°, thunder almost invariably follows.

AUGUST.—Between 2nd and 4th, some wind and rain—between 9th and 11th, wind and rain—between 15th and 16th, rain—between 24th and 26th, some wind and rain—between 30th and 1st September, some rain and possible thunder. Owing to the great radiation of heat from the earth, the temperature of this month is not much reduced.

SEPTEMBER.—Between 3rd and 5th, stormy—between 7th and 9th, stormy and wet—between 10th and 12th, wind and rain—between 17th and 19th, some wind and rain—between 25th and 27th, gales and rain. The equinoctial gales occur about the end of this month or the beginning of next. Mean temperature, 55°.

OCTOBER.—Between 1st and 3rd and 3rd and 5th, stormy and wet—between 8th and 10th, gales and rain—between 16th and 18th, stormy—between 23rd and 25th, some wind and rain. The thermometer is for five or six nights this month below freezing point. Mean temperature, 47°.

NOVEMBER.—Between 4th and 6th and 6th and 8th, gales and rain—between 13th and 15th, stormy—between 20th and 22nd and 22nd and 24th, strong winds and some rain—between 27th and 29th, wind and rain. The thermometer is for about 13 nights this month below freezing point. Fogs are prevalent.

DECEMBER.—Between 1st and 3rd, some snow or rain—between 8th and 10th, stormy and some snow or rain—between 16th and 18th, stormy and snow or rain—between 22nd and 24th, snow or rain—between 24th and 26th, stormy—between 29th and 31st, very stormy and wet. The frosts in this month are seldom of long continuance.

BIRKS OF ABERFELDY.

IMMEDIATELY opposite the Breadalbane Arms Hotel, Aberfeldy, is the entrance to the Falls of Moness, celebrated in Burns' song of "The Birks of Aberfeldy." The Falls are three in number, and are approached by a zigzag path; the highest being two miles, and the lowest one mile up the glen. The highest fall is a perpendicular torrent of about 50 feet in height, and the whole scene is one of great beauty, aptly described in Burns' lines:—

"The braes ascend like lofty wa's,
The foaming stream, deep roaring, fa's,
O'erhung wi' fragrant spreading shaws,
The birks of Aberfeldy.

"The hoary cliffs are crowned wi' flowers,
While o'er the linn the burnie pours,
And rising weets, wi' misty showers,
The birks of Aberfeldy."

The birks have very much died out, but they have been superseded by the mountain ash, which, with its cluster of red berries (called in Scotland rowans), is no unworthy substitute. A frail wooden bridge is thrown across the dell, which is so narrow that the trees in some places unite their branches from the opposite sides. Within a few miles' walk of the falls is Moness House.

DRYBURGH ABBEY.

THIS interesting abbey was founded about the year 1150, during the reign of David I., by Hugh de Moreville, Lord of Lauderdale and Constable of Scotland. Edward II., in retreat from his unsuccessful invasion of Scotland (1322), encamped in the grounds of Dryburgh, and burnt the monastery to the ground. Robert I. contributed liberally towards its repair, but it has been doubted whether it was ever fully restored to its original condition. Like Melrose, it consists of a church, in the usual form of a cross, and an adjoining monastery. Both are built of the same stone (taken from a quarry on the estate), possessing the remarkable property of hardening with age. The architecture is of the earliest periods, displaying both the Norman and Early English arch. The nave of the church is 190 feet long by 75 broad. St. Mary's Aisle, at once the most beautiful and interesting part of the ruin, contains the burial-place of Sir Walter Scott, who was interred here 26th September, 1832, in the tomb of his maternal ancestors, the Haliburtons of Newnains, at one time proprietors of the abbey. On either side are the tombs of his wife and eldest son. The ruins of the monastic buildings are of considerable extent. The refectory, or great dining-room of the monks, occupies the whole front of the abbey facing the south, and is 100 feet long, by 30 feet broad, and 60 feet high. Beneath it are the wine and alms-houses. In the immediate vicinity of the abbey is the mansion-house of Dryburgh, the seat of the Erskine family, surrounded by stately trees. The late Lord Buchan had a fancy for decorating his grounds with objects of national interest; and it was he who erected the temple of the muses with the bust of the poet Thomson and the rude colossal statue of Wallace now seen here.

CARMENT'S LIST

OF THE

PRINCIPAL FAIRS AND MARKETS IN SCOTLAND.

When the day of a Fair (thus—Dunkeld 13 day) happens on Saturday, Sunday, or Monday, it is usually delayed till the Tuesday following. New Style is always understood unless Old Style (o.s.) be mentioned. There are 12 days between New and Old Styles, i.e., 13th January is first day of Old Style.

N.B.—Fairs marked * mentioned only in January are continued each Month throughout the year.

RULE TO FIND THE WEIGHT OF CATTLE.

Take the girth behind the shoulder, and the length from the fore part of the shoulder blade along the back to the bone at the tail, which is in a vertical line with the buttock, both in feet. Multiply the square of the girth by 5 times its length, and divide by 21: the quotient is the weight, nearly, of the four quarters, in imperial stones of 14 lbs. avoirdupois.

The Editor of Carment's Directory will feel obliged by notices of alterations in the date of any of the foregoing Fairs being transmitted him for correction in future publications, and begs to state that, whilst doing his utmost to keep the List of Fairs correct, he cannot guarantee its absolute accuracy.

The "Pfaff" Perfect Singer System Sewing Machines.

THE CABINET WORK.—The Cabinet Work of the "Pfaff" Machines is unsurpassed for elegance, high finish, and strength by any Machine in the market. Not a particle of wood is used in its construction, but has been cut and seasoned at least THREE years. The borders are of solid American Walnut throughout, and finished with the utmost perfection.

THE STAND.—The japanning is very bright and hard; the ornamentation in pure gold is entirely hand-painted, and the appearance of the Stand, in consequence, rich and tasteful.

The under-mentioned exquisitely finished attachments and extras are given free of charge with each Machine:—

instructions unnecessary.

N.B.—We guarantee the working parts of each Machine to be made of the very best forged steel, and to be finished with the utmost care and precision.

A guarantee of perfection is given with each Machine. Any part found defective will be replaced by us free of charge. The guarantee is not limited as to time.

The "Pfaff" Machines, although of comparatively recent introduction into this country, have for 25 years or more been considered the finest and most reliable Machines on the Continent and in many of the British Colonies. Long before the leading Sewing Machine Companies of to-day were heard of, the "Pfaff" Machines received "Awards of Merit" and Medals in recognition of their superiority at the International Exhibitions held in London, and the Continental and Colonial cities. They are now acknowledged by the Leading Sewing Machine Merchants and Experts in the kingdom the only really perfect Singer System Sewing Machines in the trade.

BLACKIE & SON'S BOOKS FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

Including Works by
G. A. Henty · G. Manville · Fenn · George Mac Donald
Prof. A. J. Church · Harry Collingwood
John C. Hutcheson · Ascott · R. Hope · Henry · Frith
F. Frankfort · Moore · Sarah · Tytler · Alice · Corkran
Rosa · Mulholland · Sarah · Doudney · Mary · C. Rowsell
· and other standard authors

"The story-books of Messrs. Blackie are delightful, brilliantly bound, and printed on paper that is a pleasure to handle."—Daily Telegraph.

"More suitable books, especially for boys, it would be impossible to imagine. Whether of adventure, school life, or domestic interest, every story is alike marked with those wholesome and robust characteristics which form so valuable a feature in juvenile literature."—Christmas Bookseller.

10/6 Rip Van Winkle: A Legend of the Hudson. By WASHINGTON IRVING. With Forty-eight Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Small 4to, cloth, gilt, 10s. 6d.

"It is a pleasure to have Washington Irving's delightful story in a dress so appropriate and so handsome as that here furnished it. Mr. Gordon Browne has entered thoroughly into the spirit of his author, and the pictures of Rip, his spouse, and his associates, human or superhuman, are admirable in all respects."
—Notes and Queries.

"A most charming edition of this favourite old story. Mr. Browne has done some good work lately, but none so thoughtful and finished as these drawings."
—Graphic.

7/6 The Universe: Or the Infinitely Great and the Infinitely Little. A Sketch of Contrasts in Creation, and Marvels revealed and explained by Natural Science. By F. A. POUCHET, M.D. With 273 Engravings on wood, of which 56 are full-page size. Ninth Edition, medium 8vo, cloth elegant, gilt edges, 7s. 6d.; also morocco antique, 16s.

"We can honestly commend Professor Pouchet's book, which is admirably, as it is copiously illustrated."—The Times.

"This book is as interesting as the most exciting romance, and a great deal more likely to be remembered to good purpose."—Standard.

6/ Robinson Crusoe. By DANIEL DEFOE. Illustrated by above 100 Pictures by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olive edges, 6s.

"One of the best issues, if not absolutely the best, of Defoe's work which has ever appeared."—The Standard.

"The best edition I have come across for years. If you know a boy who has not a 'Robinson Crusoe,' just glance at any one of these hundred illustrations, and you will go no further afield in search of a present for him."—Truth.

5/ Gulliver's Travels. A New Edition. Illustrated by more than 100 Pictures by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olive edges, 5s.

"By help of the admirable illustrations, and a little judicious skipping, it has enchanted a family party of ages varying from six to sixty. Which of the other Christmas books could stand this test?"—Journal of Education.

"Mr. Gordon Browne is, to my thinking, incomparably the most artistic, spirited, and brilliant of our illustrators of books for boys, and one of the most humorous also, as his illustrations of 'Gulliver' amply testify."—Truth.

1/6 When I was a Boy in China. By YAN PHOU LEE, a native of China, now resident in the United States. Illustrated. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 1s. 6d.

Mr. Yan Phou Lee, a native of China, who graduated at Yale College and ultimately married an American lady and settled at New Haven, Connecticut, here gives his experiences as a Chinese Boy. As a concise yet detailed and interesting record of his younger days, it forms not only an entertaining contribution to the list of boys' books, but a valuable addition to works dealing with the inner life of nations.

BY G. A. HENTY.

"Mr. Henty is one of the best of story-tellers for young people."—Spectator.The Lion of St. Mark: A Tale of Venice. By G. A. HENTY.

With 10 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s. 6/

A story of Venice at a period when her strength and splendour were put to the severest tests. The hero, the son of an English trader, displays a fine manliness which carries him safely through an atmosphere of intrigue, crime, and bloodshed. In his gondola on the canals and lagunes, and in the ships which he rises to command, he is successful in extricating his friends and himself from imminent dangers, and contributes largely to the victories of the Venetians at Porto d'Anzo and Chioggia.

Captain Bayley's Heir: A Tale of the Gold Fields of California.

By G. A. HENTY. With 12 full-page Illustrations by H. M. PAGET. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

A frank manly lad and his cousin are rivals in the heirship of a considerable property. The former falls into a trap laid by the latter, and while under a false accusation of theft foolishly leaves England for America. He works his passage before the mast, becomes one of the hands on a river trading-flat, joins a small band of hunters, crosses a tract of country infested with Indians to the Californian gold diggings, and is successful both as digger and trader. He acquires a small fortune, and at length returns home, rich in valuable experiences.

Bonnie Prince Charlie: A Tale of Fontenoy and Culloden.

By G. A. HENTY. With 12 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"Ronald, the hero, is very like the hero of Quentin Durward. The lad's journey across France with his faithful attendant Malcolm, and his hairbreadth escapes from the machinations of his father's enemies, make up as good a narrative of the kind as we have ever read. For freshness of treatment and variety of incident, Mr. Henty has here surpassed himself."—Spectator.

"A historical romance of the best quality. Mr. Henty has written many more sensational stories, but never a more artistic one."—Academy.

For the Temple: A Tale of the Fall of Jerusalem. By

G. A. HENTY. With 10 full-page Illustrations by SOLOMON J. SOLOMON: and a coloured Map. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"Mr. Henty is ever one of the foremost writers of historical tales, and his graphic prose pictures of the hopeless Jewish resistance to Roman sway adds another leaf to his record of the famous wars of the world. The book is one of Mr. Henty's cleverest efforts."—Graphic.

"The story is told with all the force of descriptive power which has made the author's war stories so famous, and many an 'old boy' as well as the younger ones will delight in this narrative of that awful page of history."—Church Times.

BY G. A. HENTY.

"Surely Mr. Henty should understand boys' tastes better than any man living."
—The Times.

6/ The Lion of the North: A Tale of Gustavus Adolphus and the Wars of Religion. By G. A. HENTY. With 12 full-page Illustrations by JOHN SCHÖNBERG. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"As we might expect from Mr. Henty the tale is a clever and instructive piece of history, and as boys may be trusted to read it conscientiously, they can hardly fail to be profited as well as pleased."—The Times.

"A praiseworthy attempt to interest British youth in the great deeds of the Scotch Brigade in the wars of Gustavus Adolphus. Mackay, Hepburn, and Munro live again in Mr. Henty's pages, as those deserve to live whose disciplined bands formed really the germ of the modern British army."—Athenæum.

"A stirring story of stirring times. This book should hold a place among the classics of youthful fiction."—United Service Gazette.

The Young Carthaginian: A Story of the Times of Hannibal. By G. A. HENTY. With 12 full-page Illustrations by C. J. STANILAND, R.I. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"The effect of an interesting story, well constructed and vividly told, is enhanced by the picturesque quality of the scenic background. From first to last nothing stays the interest of the narrative. It bears us along as on a stream, whose current varies in direction, but never loses its force."—Saturday Review.

"Ought to be popular with boys who are not too ill instructed or too dandified to be affected by a graphic picture of the days and deeds of Hannibal."—Athenæum.

With Wolfe in Canada: Or, The Winning of a Continent. By G. A. HENTY. With 12 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"A model of what a boys' story-book should be. Mr. Henty has a great power of infusing into the dead facts of history new life, and as no pains are spared by him to ensure accuracy in historic details, his books supply useful aids to study as well as amusement."—School Guardian.

"It is not only a lesson in history as instructively as it is graphically told, but also a deeply interesting and often thrilling tale of adventure and peril by flood and field."—Illustrated London News.

"This is a narrative which will bear retelling, and to which Mr. Henty, whose careful study of details is worthy of all praise, does full justice. . . . His adventures are told with much spirit; the escape when the birch canoes have been damaged by an enemy is especially well described."—Spectator.

With Clive in India: Or, The Beginnings of an Empire. By G. A. HENTY. With 12 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE, in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"In this book Mr. Henty has contrived to exceed himself in stirring adventures and thrilling situations. The pictures add greatly to the interest of the book."—Saturday Review.

"Among writers of stories of adventure for boys Mr. Henty stands in the very first rank. Those who know something about India will be the most ready to thank Mr. Henty for giving them this instructive volume to place in the hands of their children."—Academy.

BY G. A. HENTY.

"Among writers of stories of adventure for boys Mr. Henty stands in the very first rank."—Academy.

True to the Old Flag: A Tale of the American War of Independence. By G. A. HENTY. With 12 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s. 6/

"Does justice to the pluck and determination of the British soldiers. The son of an American loyalist, who remains true to our flag, falls among the hostile redskins in that very Huron country which has been endeared to us by the exploits of Hawkeye and Chingachgook."—The Times.

"Mr. Henty's extensive personal experience of adventures and moving incidents by flood and field, combined with a gift of picturesque narrative, make his books always welcome visitors in the home circle."—Daily News.

In Freedom's Cause: A Story of Wallace and Bruce. By G. A. HENTY. With 12 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"Mr. Henty has broken new ground as an historical novelist. His tale of the days of Wallace and Bruce is full of stirring action, and will commend itself to boys."—Athenæum.

"Written in the author's best style. Full of the most remarkable achievements, it is a tale of great interest, which a boy, once he has begun it, will not willingly put on one side."—Schoolmaster.

"Scarcely anywhere have we seen in prose a more lucid and spirit-stirring description of Bannockburn than the one with which the author fittingly closes his volume."—Dumfries Standard.

Through the Fray: A Story of the Luddite Riots. By G. A. HENTY. With 12 full-page Illustrations by H. M. PAGET, in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"Mr. Henty inspires a love and admiration for straightforwardness, truth, and courage. This is one of the best of the many good books Mr. Henty has produced, and deserves to be classed with his Facing Death."—Standard.

"The interest of the story never flags. Were we to propose a competition for the best list of novel writers for boys we have little doubt that Mr. Henty's name would stand first."—Journal of Education.

"This story is told in Mr. Henty's own easy and often graphic style. There is no 'padding' in the book, and its teaching is, that we have enemies within as well as without, and therefore the power of self-control is a quality that should be striven after by every 'true' boy."—Educational Times.

Under Drake's Flag: A Tale of the Spanish Main. By G. A. HENTY. Illustrated by 12 full-page Pictures by GORDON BROWNE, in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"There is not a dull chapter, nor, indeed, a dull page in the book; but the author has so carefully worked up his subject that the exciting deeds of his heroes are never incongruous or absurd."—Observer.

"I can thoroughly recommend 'Under Drake's Flag.'"—Truth.

"Just such a book, indeed, as the youth of this maritime country are likely to prize highly."—Daily Telegraph.

"A book of adventure, where the hero meets with experience enough one would think to turn his hair gray."—Harper's Monthly Magazine.

BY GEORGE MANVILLE FENN.

"Mr. Fenn is in the front rank of writers of stories for boys."—Liverpool Mercury.

- 6/ Quicksilver: Or a Boy with no Skid to his Wheel. By GEORGE MANVILLE FENN. With 10 full-page Illustrations by FRANK DADD. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

Dr. Grayson has a theory that any boy, if rightly trained, can be made into a gentleman and a great man; and in order to confute a friendly objecter decides to select from the workhouse a boy to experiment with. He chooses a boy with a bad reputation but with excellent instincts, and adopts him, the story narrating the adventures of the mercurial lad who thus finds himself suddenly lifted several degrees in the social scale. The idea is novel and handled with Mr. Manville Fenn's accustomed cleverness, the restless boyish nature, with its inevitable tendency to get into scrapes, being sympathetically and often humorously drawn.

- Dick o' the Fens: A Romance of the Great East Swamp. By G. MANVILLE FENN. With 12 full-page Illustrations by FRANK DADD. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"We conscientiously believe that boys will find it capital reading. It is full of incident and mystery, and the mystery is kept up to the last moment. It is rich in effective local colouring; and it has a certain historical interest as well, when it paints the resistance of the rough-and-ready semi-savages to the drainage schemes."—Times.

"We should say that in Dick o' the Fens Mr. Manville Fenn has very nearly attained perfection. Life in the Fen country in the old ante-drainage days is admirably reproduced. . . . Altogether we have not of late come across a historical fiction, whether intended for boys or for men, which deserves to be so heartily and unreservedly praised as regards plot, incidents, and spirit as Dick o' the Fens. It is its author's masterpiece as yet."—Spectator.

- Devon Boys: A Tale of the North Shore. By G. MANVILLE FENN. With 12 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"An admirable story, as remarkable for the individuality of its young heroes as for the excellent descriptions of coast scenery and life in North Devon. It is one of the best books we have seen this season."—Athenæum.

"We do not know that Mr. Fenn has ever reached a higher level than he has in Devon Boys. It must be put in the very front rank of Christmas books."—Spectator.

- Brownsmith's Boy. By G. MANVILLE FENN. With 12 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"Mr. Fenn's books are among the best, if not altogether the best, of the stories for boys. Mr. Fenn is at his best in 'Brownsmith's Boy.'"—Pictorial World.

"'Brownsmith's Boy' must rank among the few undeniably good boys' books. He will be a very dull boy indeed who lays it down without wishing that it had gone on for at least 100 pages more."—North British Mail.

BY GEORGE MANVILLE FENN.

"Our boys know Mr. Fenn well, his stories having won for him a foremost place in their estimation."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Bunyip Land: The Story of a Wild Journey in New Guinea. 6/

By G. MANVILLE FENN. With 12 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"Mr. Fenn deserves the thanks of everybody for 'Bunyip Land,' and we may venture to promise that a quiet week may be reckoned on whilst the youngsters have such fascinating literature provided for their evenings' amusement."—Spectator.

"One of the best tales of adventure produced by any living writer, combining the inventiveness of Jules Verne, and the solidity of character and earnestness of spirit which have made the English victorious in so many fields."—Daily Chronicle.

The Golden Magnet: A Tale of the Land of the Incas. By G. MANVILLE FENN. Illustrated by 12 full-page Pictures by GORDON BROWNE, in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"This is, we think, the best boys' book Mr. Fenn has produced. . . . The illustrations are perfect in their way."—Globe.

"There could be no more welcome present for a boy. There is not a dull page in the book, and many will be read with breathless interest. 'The Golden Magnet' is, of course, the same one that attracted Raleigh and the heroes of 'Westward Ho!'"—Journal of Education.

In the King's Name: Or the Cruise of the Kestrel. By G. MANVILLE FENN. Illustrated by 12 full-page Pictures by GORDON BROWNE, in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"A capital boys' story, full of incident and adventure, and told in the lively style in which Mr. Fenn is such an adept."—Globe.

"The best of all Mr. Fenn's productions in this field. It has the great quality of always 'moving on,' adventure following adventure in constant succession."—Daily News.

BY SARAH DOUDNEY.

Under False Colours. By SARAH DOUDNEY. With 12 full-page Illustrations by G. G. KILBURNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant olivine edges, 6s.

A story which, while it is eminently suitable for girls' reading because of the purity of its style, its genuine pathos and healthy sentiment, has in it so strong a dramatic element that it will attract readers of all ages and of either sex. The incidents of the plot, arising from the thoughtless indulgence of a deceptive freak, are exceedingly natural, and the keen interest of the narrative is sustained from beginning to end. Under False Colours is a book which will rivet the attention, amuse the fancy, and touch the heart. It is worthy of the high reputation attained by the author as a writer of stories interesting as novels and destined for the delight of the home circle.

BY HARRY COLLINGWOOD.

"Mr. Collingwood stands far in advance of any other writer for boys as a teller of stories of the sea."—Standard.

- 6/ The Log of the "Flying Fish:" A Story of Aerial and Submarine Peril and Adventure. By HARRY COLLINGWOOD. With 12 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"The Flying Fish actually surpasses all Jules Verne's creations; with incredible speed she flies through the air, skims over the surface of the water, and darts along the ocean bed. We strongly recommend our school-boy friends to possess themselves of her log."—Athenæum.

BY ALICE CORKRAN.

- Down the Snow Stairs: Or, From Good-night to Good-morning. By ALICE CORKRAN. With 60 character Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Square crown 8vo, cloth elegant, gilt edges, 6s.

"A fascinating wonder-book for children."—Athenæum.
 "A gem of the first water, bearing upon every page the signet mark of genius. All is told with such simplicity and perfect naturalness that the dream appears to be a solid reality. It is indeed a Little Pilgrim's Progress."—Christian Leader.

BY PROFESSOR A. J. CHURCH.

- Two Thousand Years Ago: Or, The Adventures of a Roman Boy. By Professor A. J. CHURCH. With 12 full-page Illustrations by ADRIEN MARIE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 6s.

"Adventures well worth the telling. The book is extremely entertaining as well as useful, and there is a wonderful freshness in the Roman scenes and characters."—The Times.

"Entertaining in the highest degree from beginning to end, and full of adventure which is all the livelier for its close connection with history."—Spectator.

"We know of no book which will do more to make the Romans of that day live again for the English reader."—Guardian.

BY G. A. HENTY.

- 5/ Orange and Green: A Tale of the Boyne and Limerick. By G. A. HENTY. With 8 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 5s.

"An extremely spirited story, based on the struggle in Ireland, rendered memorable by the defence of 'Derry and the siege of Limerick.'"—Sat. Review.

"The narrative is free from the vice of prejudice, and ripples with life as vivacious as if what is being described were really passing before the eye. . . . 'Orange and Green' should be in the hands of every young student of Irish history without delay."—Belfast Morning News.

BY G. A. HENTY.

"The brightest of all the living writers whose office it is to enchant the boys."
—Christian Leader.

The Cat of Bubastes: A Story of Ancient Egypt. By 5/

G. A. HENTY. With 8 full-page Illustrations by J. R. WEGUELIN.
Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 5s.

Mr. Henty has produced a story which will give young readers an unsurpassed insight into the customs of the Egyptian people. Amuba, a prince of the Rebu nation on the shores of the Caspian, is carried with his charioteer Jethro into slavery. They become inmates of the house of Ameres, the Egyptian high-priest, and are happy in his service until the priest's son accidentally kills the sacred cat of Bubastes. In an outburst of popular fury Ameres is killed, and it rests with Jethro and Amuba to secure the escape of the high-priest's son and daughter. After many dangers they succeed in crossing the desert to the Red Sea, and eventually making their way to the Caspian.

Facing Death: Or the Hero of the Vaughan Pit. A Tale of the Coal Mines. By G. A. HENTY. With 8 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"If any father, godfather, clergyman, or schoolmaster is on the look-out for a good book to give as a present to a boy who is worth his salt, this is the book we would recommend."—Standard.

The Bravest of the Brave: With Peterborough in Spain.

By G. A. HENTY. With 8 full-page Pictures by H. M. PAGET.
Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"Mr. Henty never loses sight of the moral purpose of his work—to enforce the doctrine of courage and truth, mercy and lovingkindness, as indispensable to the making of an English gentleman. British lads will read 'The Bravest of the Brave' with pleasure and profit; of that we are quite sure."—Daily Telegraph.

For Name and Fame: Or, Through Afghan Passes. By

G. A. HENTY. With 8 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE, in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"The best feature of the book, apart from its scenes of adventure, is its honest effort to do justice to the patriotism of the Afghan people."—Daily News.

"Not only a rousing story, replete with all the varied forms of excitement of a campaign, but, what is still more useful, an account of a territory and its inhabitants which must for a long time possess a supreme interest for Englishmen, as being the key to our Indian Empire."—Glasgow Herald.

In the Reign of Terror: The Adventures of a Westminster

Boy. By G. A. HENTY. With 8 full-page Illustrations by J. SCHÖNBERG. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 5s.

"Harry Sandwith, the Westminster boy, may fairly be said to beat Mr. Henty's record. His adventures will delight boys by the audacity and peril they depict. The story is one of Mr. Henty's best."—Saturday Review.

BY G. A. HENTY.

"Mr. Henty is the king of story-tellers for boys."—Sword and Trowel.

- 5/ St. George for England: A Tale of Cressy and Poitiers.
By G. A. HENTY. With 8 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE, in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"Mr. Henty has done his work well, producing a strong story at once instructive and entertaining."—Glasgow Herald.

"Mr. Henty's historical novels for boys bid fair to supplement, on their behalf, the historical labours of Sir Walter Scott in the land of fiction."—Standard.

- A Final Reckoning: A Tale of Bush Life in Australia.

By G. A. HENTY. With 8 full-page Illustrations by W. B. WOLLEN. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"Exhibits Mr. Henty's talent as a story-teller at his best. . . . The drawings possess the uncommon merit of really illustrating the text."—Saturday Review.

"All boys will read this story with eager and unflagging interest. The episodes are in Mr. Henty's very best vein—graphic, exciting, realistic; and, as in all Mr. Henty's books, the tendency is to the formation of an honourable, manly, and even heroic character."—Birmingham Post.

- The Dragon and the Raven: Or, The Days of King

Alfred. By G. A. HENTY. With 8 full-page Illustrations by C. J. STANILAND, R.I., in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"Perhaps the best story of the early days of England which has yet been told."—Court Journal.

"We know of no popular book in which the stirring incidents of Alfred's reign are made accessible to young readers as they are here."—Scotsman.

- By Sheer Pluck: A Tale of the Ashanti War. By G. A. HENTY. With 8 full-page Pictures by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"'By Sheer Pluck' will be eagerly read. The author's personal knowledge of the west coast has been turned to good advantage."—Athenæum.

"Morally, the book is everything that could be desired, setting before the boys a bright and bracing ideal of the English gentleman."—Christian Leader.

BY DOUGLAS FRAZAR.

- Perseverance Island: Or the Robinson Crusoe of the 19th Century. By DOUGLAS FRAZAR. With 12 full-page Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"This second Robinson Crusoe is certainly a marvellous man. His determination to overcome all difficulties, and his subsequent success, should alone make this a capital book for boys."—It is altogether a worthy successor to the ancient Robinson Crusoe."—Glasgow Herald.

BY GEORGE MANVILLE FENN.

"No one can find his way to the hearts of lads more readily than Mr. Fenn."—Nottingham Guardian.

Yussuf the Guide: Being the Strange Story of the Travels in Asia Minor of Burne the Lawyer, Preston the Professor, and Lawrence the Sick. By G. MANVILLE FENN. With 8 full-page Illustrations by JOHN SCHÖNBERG. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s. 5/

"The narrative will take its readers into scenes that will have great novelty and attraction for them, and the experiences with the brigands will be especially delightful to boys."—Scotsman.

Menhardoc: A Story of Cornish Nets and Mines. By G. MANVILLE FENN. With 8 full-page Illustrations by C. J. STANLAND, in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"They are real living boys, with their virtues and faults. The Cornish fishermen are drawn from life, they are racy of the soil, salt with the sea-water, and they stand out from the pages in their jerseys and sea-boots all sprinkled with silvery pilchard scales."—Spectator.

"A description of Will Marion's descent into a flooded mine is excellent. Josh is a delightfully amusing character. We may cordially praise the illustrations."—Saturday Review.

Mother Carey's Chicken: Her Voyage to the Unknown Isle. By G. MANVILLE FENN. With 8 full-page Illustrations by A. FORESTIER. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 5s.

"Jules Verne himself never constructed a more marvellous tale. It contains the strongly marked English features that are always conspicuous in Mr. Fenn's stories—a humour racy of the British soil, the manly vigour of his sentiment, and wholesome moral lessons. For anything to match his realistic touch we must go to Daniel Defoe."—Christian Leader.

"When we get to the 'Unknown Isle,' the story becomes exciting. Mr. Fenn keeps his readers in a suspense that is not intermitted for a moment, and the dénouement is a surprise which is as probable as it is startling."—Spectator.

Patience Wins: Or, War in the Works. By G. MANVILLE FENN. With 8 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE, in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"An excellent story, the interest being sustained from first to last. One of the best books of its kind which has come before us this year."—Saturday Review.

"Mr. Fenn is at his best in 'Patience Wins.' It is sure to prove acceptable to youthful readers, and will give a good idea of that which was the real state of one of our largest manufacturing towns not many years ago."—Guardian.

Nat the Naturalist: A Boy's Adventures in the Eastern Seas. By G. MANVILLE FENN. With 8 full-page Pictures. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"Among the best of the many good books for boys that have come out this season."—Times.

"This sort of book encourages independence of character, develops resource, and teaches a boy to keep his eyes open."—Saturday Review.

BY HARRY COLLINGWOOD.

5/ The Missing Merchantman. By HARRY COLLINGWOOD.

With 8 full-page Illustrations by W. H. OVEREND. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 5s.

A fine Australian clipper is seized by the crew; the passengers are landed on one desert island, the captain and a junior officer on another; and the young hero of the story is kept on board to navigate the ship. The mutineers refit the ship as a pirate vessel. At length, with the aid of a repentant member of the crew, Ned succeeds in carrying off the ship. In the meantime the captain and his associates have succeeded in rejoining the passengers, and they are after many adventures found by Ned.

The Rover's Secret: A Tale of the Pirate Cays and Lagoons of Cuba. By HARRY COLLINGWOOD. With 8 full-page Illustrations by W. C. SYMONS. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 5s.

"The Rover's Secret is by far the best sea-story we have read for years, and is certain to give unalloyed pleasure to boys. The illustrations are fresh and vigorous."—Saturday Review.

The Pirate Island: A Story of the South Pacific. By HARRY COLLINGWOOD. Illustrated by 8 full-page Pictures by C. J. STANILAND and J. R. WELLS, in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"A capital story of the sea; indeed in our opinion the author is superior in some respects as a marine novelist to the better known Mr. Clarke Russell."—The Times.

"Told in the most vivid and graphic language. It would be difficult to find a more thoroughly delightful gift-book."—Guardian.

The Congo Rovers: A Story of the Slave Squadron. By HARRY COLLINGWOOD. With 8 full-page Illustrations by J. SCHÖNBERG, in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"No better sea-story has lately been written than the Congo Rovers. It is as original as any boy could desire."—Morning Post.

BY SARAH TYTLER.

Girl Neighbours: Or, The Old Fashion and the New. By

SARAH TYTLER. With 8 full-page Illustrations by C. T. GARLAND. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 5s.

"One of the most effective and quietly humorous of Miss Sarah Tytler's stories. . . . Girl Neighbours is a healthy comedy, not so much of errors as of prejudices got rid off, very healthy, very agreeable, and very well written."—Spectator.

"Girls will find it very interesting. The illustrations are very good; the frontispiece, especially, possesses a delicacy of execution not often met with in books of this class."—School Guardian.

BY F. FRANKFORT MOORE.

Under Hatches: Or Ned Woodthorpe's Adventures. By F. FRANKFORT MOORE. With 8 full-page Illustrations by A. FORESTIER. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, olivine edges, 5s. 5/

In rescuing another lad from drowning, Ned Woodthorpe is compelled to take refuge in a light-ship, from which he is involuntarily transferred to an outward-bound convict-ship. After a series of exciting events, in which Bowkitt, an innocent convict, plays a brilliant part, the convicts and mutinous crew obtain the mastery under the leadership of a fanatical gold-seeker. The officers, Ned, and Bowkitt are set adrift in the cutter, and eventually land on a desert island, to which also the mutineers find their way. By the want of discipline of the latter, opportunity is afforded for the daring recapture of the ship, and Ned and his friends escape from the island.

BY ROSA MULHOLLAND.

Giannetta: A Girl's Story of Herself. By ROSA MULHOLLAND. With 8 full-page Illustrations by LOCKHART BOGLE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

The daughter of an Anglo-Irish gentleman, who had married a poor Swiss girl, was stolen as an infant by some of her mother's relatives. The child having died, they afterwards for the sake of gain substitute another child for it, and the changeling, after becoming a clever modeller of clay images on the mountain side, is suddenly transferred to the position of a rich English heiress. She develops into a good and accomplished woman, and though the imposture of her early friends is finally discovered, she has gained too much love and devotion to be really a sufferer by the surrender of her estates.

BY ASCOTT R. HOPE.

The Seven Wise Scholars: By ASCOTT R. HOPE. With nearly One Hundred Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Square 8vo, cloth elegant, gilt edges, 5s.

"As full of fun as a volume of Punch; with illustrations, and plenty of them, more laughter-provoking than most we have seen since Leech died."—Sheffield Independent.

"A capital story, full of fun and happy comic fancies. The tale would put the sourest-tempered boy into a good humour, and to an imaginative child would be a source of keen delight."—Scotsman.

The Wigwam and the War-path: Stories of the Red Indians. By ASCOTT R. HOPE. With 8 full-page Pictures by GORDON BROWNE, in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"All the stories are told well, in simple spirited language and with a fulness of detail that makes them instructive as well as interesting."—Journal of Education.

BY GEORGE MAC DONALD.

"Mr. George Mac Donald is one of the few living authors who, while they enjoy a considerable reputation, are greater than their repute."—Fall Mall Gazette.

- 5/ At the Back of the North Wind. By GEORGE MAC DONALD, LL.D. With 75 Illustrations by ARTHUR HUGHES. New Edition. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"In 'At the Back of the North Wind' we stand with one foot in fairyland and one on common earth. The story is thoroughly original, full of fancy and pathos, and underlaid with earnest but not too obtrusive teaching."—The Times.

- Ranald Bannerman's Boyhood. By GEORGE MAC DONALD, LL.D. With 36 Illustrations by ARTHUR HUGHES. New Edition. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 5s.

"The sympathy with boy-nature in 'Ranald Bannerman's Boyhood' is perfect. It is a beautiful picture of childhood, teaching by its impressions and suggestions all noble things."—British Quarterly Review.

"Mr. Mac Donald has a real understanding of boy-nature, and he has in consequence written a capital story, judged from their standpoint, with a true ring all through which ensures its success."—The Spectator.

- 3/6 The Princess and the Goblin. By GEORGE MAC DONALD, LL.D. With 30 Text Illustrations by ARTHUR HUGHES, and 2 full-page Pictures by HORACE PETHERICK. New Edition. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"Little of what is written for children has the lightness of touch and play of fancy which are characteristic of George Mac Donald's fairy tales. Mr. Arthur Hughes's illustrations are all that illustrations should be."—Manchester Guardian.

"A model of what a child's book ought to be—interesting, instructive, and poetical. We cordially recommend it as one of the very best gift-books we have yet come across."—Elgin Courant.

- The Princess and Curdie. By GEORGE MAC DONALD, LL.D. With 8 full-page Illustrations in tints by JAMES ALLEN. New Edition. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"There is the finest and rarest genius in this brilliant story. Upgrown people would do wisely occasionally to lay aside their newspapers and magazines to spend an hour with Curdie and the Princess. A book like this is refreshing as a plunge in a Highland loch."—Sheffield Independent.

BY WILLIAM EVERARD.

- Sir Walter's Ward: A Tale of the Crusades. By WILLIAM EVERARD. With 6 full-page Illustrations by WALTER PAGET. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"This book will prove a very acceptable present either to boys or girls. Both alike will take an interest in the career of Dodo, in spite of his unheroic name, and follow him through his numerous and exciting adventures."—Academy.

BY ALICE CORKRAN.

Meg's Friend. By ALICE CORKRAN. With 6 full-page Illustrations by ROBERT FOWLER. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d. 3/6

Meg, a child of unknown parentage, has been brought up by a woman who receives an allowance for taking charge of her, but who abuses the trust. She is removed to a ladies' school, passes successfully through the many troubles incident to so complete a change, and is ultimately taken into the house of a mysterious benefactor, who proves to be her grandfather. Her fine nature at length breaks down his coldness and apparent aversion to her; and after long separation she once more meets the friend of her neglected childhood.

Margery Merton's Girlhood. By ALICE CORKRAN. With 6 full-page Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"Another book for girls we can warmly commend. There is a delightful piquancy in the experiences and trials of a young English girl who studies painting in Paris."—Saturday Review.

BY J. A. STEUART.

Self-Exiled: A Story of the High Seas and East Africa. By J. A. STEUART. With 6 full-page Illustrations by J. SCHÖNBERG. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 3s. 6d.

The adventures of a youth who gets into disgrace, and takes ship to America. He and a queer friend Fitzroy are involuntarily landed upon icebergs, but are rescued, and together join a vessel for the Southern Seas. Overtaken by a storm, they are compelled to take to the boats, from which they are saved by a passing ship. Fitzroy becomes the leader of a terrible mutiny in which almost all on board perish, the survivors being ultimately landed on the West Coast of Africa. After thrilling experiences the hero and an American sailor succeed in reaching home.

BY CAROLINE AUSTIN.

Hugh Herbert's Inheritance. By CAROLINE AUSTIN. With 6 full-page Illustrations by C. T. GARLAND. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 3s. 6d.

A widow and her four children are suddenly reduced from a condition of ease and luxury to one of poverty and dependence. The elder son goes to India, and passes through the perils of the Indian mutiny; while the younger incurs scarcely less risk at home. By a curious train of events, however, their property is at length restored to them, and they enter upon the old life with new capacities for happiness.

 BY E. S. BROOKS.

3/6 Storied Holidays: A Cycle of Red-letter Days. By E. S. BROOKS. With 12 full-page Illustrations by HOWARD PYLE. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 3s. 6d.

A volume of short and pleasant historic tales, each connected with one of the leading holidays of the year:—New Year's Day, Hallowe'en, &c. Thus St. Valentine's Day affords opportunity for a charming peep into the interior of Samuel Pepys' house, and introduces the staunch young Quaker William Penn and the fiery old admiral, his father.

Chivalric Days: Stories of Courtesy and Courage in the Olden Times. By E. S. BROOKS. With 20 Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE and other Artists. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"We have seldom come across a prettier collection of tales. These charming stories of boys and girls of olden days are no mere fictitious or imaginary sketches, but are real and actual records of their sayings and doings. The illustrations are in Gordon Browne's happiest style."—Literary World.

Historic Boys: Their Endeavours, their Achievements, and their Times. By E. S. BROOKS. With 12 full-page Illustrations by R. B. BIRCH and JOHN SCHÖNBERG. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"A wholesome book, manly in tone, its character sketches enlivened by brisk dialogue. We advise schoolmasters to put it on their list of prizes."—Knowledge.

 BY JOHN C. HUTCHESON.

The White Squall: A Story of the Sargasso Sea. By JOHN C. HUTCHESON. With 6 full-page Illustrations by JOHN SCHÖNBERG. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 3s. 6d.

"The sketches of tropical life are so good as sometimes to remind us of 'Tom Cringle' and the 'Cruise of the Midge.'"—Times.

The Wreck of the Nancy Bell: Or Cast Away on Kerguelen Land. By JOHN C. HUTCHESON. Illustrated by 6 full-page Pictures in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"A full circumstantial narrative such as boys delight in. The ship so sadly destined to wreck on Kerguelen Land is manned by a very lifelike party, passengers and crew. The life in the Antarctic Iceland is well treated."—Athenæum.

Picked up at Sea: Or the Gold Miners of Minturne Creek. By JOHN C. HUTCHESON. With 6 full-page Pictures. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"The author's success with this book is so marked that it may well encourage him to further efforts. The description of mining life in the Far-west is true and accurate."—Standard.

The Search for the Talisman: A Story of Labrador. 3/6

By HENRY FRITH. With 6 full-page Illustrations by J. SCHÖNBERG.
Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 3s. 6d.

"Mr. Frith's volume will be among those most read and highest valued. The adventures among seals, whales, and icebergs in Labrador will delight many a young reader, and at the same time give him an opportunity to widen his knowledge of the Esquimaux, the heroes of many tales."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"A genial and rollicking tale. It is a regular boys' book, and a very cheery and wholesome one."—Spectator.

"Is everything that a boy's book should be—healthy in teaching, instructive, yet never dull. Mr. Frith is a thorough master of boy nature."—Glasgow Herald

Stories of Old Renown: Tales of Knights and Heroes.

By ASCOTT R. HOPE. With 100 Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE.
New Edition. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 3s. 6d.

"A really fascinating book worthy of its telling title. There is, we venture to say, not a dull page in the book, not a story which will not bear a second reading."—Guardian.

Reefer and Rifleman: A Tale of the Two Services. By

J. PERCY-GROVES, late 27th Inniskillings. With 6 full-page
Illustrations by JOHN SCHÖNBERG. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 3s. 6d.

"A good, old-fashioned, amphibious story of our fighting with the Frenchmen in the beginning of our century, with a fair sprinkling of fun and frolic."—Times.

"The author writes with a picturesque dash which is fast bringing him to the front rank among the writers of boys' books."—Daily News.

The Bubbling Teapot. A Wonder Story. By Mrs. L. W.

CHAMPNEY. With 12 full-page Pictures by WALTER SATTERLEE.
Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"Very literally a 'wonder story,' and a wild and fanciful one. Nevertheless it is made realistic enough, and there is a good deal of information to be gained from it. The steam from the magic teapot bubbles up into a girl, and the little girl, when the fancy takes her, can cry herself back into a teapot. Transformed and enchanted she makes the tour of the globe."—The Times.

Traitor or Patriot? A Tale of the Rye-House Plot. By

elegant, 3s. 6d.

"A romantic love episode, whose true characters are lifelike beings, not dry sticks in many historical tales."—Graphic.

"The character of the heroine is singularly attractive."—Bristol Mercury.

Dr. Jolliffe's Boys: A Tale of Weston School. By LEWIS

HOUGH. With 6 full-page Pictures in black and tint. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"Young people who appreciate 'Tom Brown's School-days' will find this story a worthy companion to that fascinating book. There is the same manliness of tone, truthfulness of outline, avoidance of exaggeration and caricature, and healthy morality as characterized the masterpiece of Mr. Hughes."—Newcastle Journal.

 BY MRS. E. R. PITMAN.

3/6 Florence Godfrey's Faith. A Story of Australian Life.
 By MRS. EMMA RAYMOND PITMAN. With 4 full-page Illustrations.
 Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"This is a clever, and what is better still, a good book, written with a freshness and power which carry the story along unflinchingly to the close."—Christian Globe.

Garnered Sheaves. A Tale for Boys. By Mrs. E. R. PITMAN. With 4 full-page Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"This is a story of the best sort . . . a noble-looking book, illustrating faith in God, and commending to young minds all that is pure and true."—Rev. C. H. Spurgeon's Sword and Trowel.

Life's Daily Ministry: A Story of Everyday Service for others. By Mrs. E. R. PITMAN. With 4 full-page Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"Shows exquisite touches of a master hand. She has not only made a close study of human nature in all its phases, but she has acquired the artist's skill in depicting in graphic outline the characteristics of the beautiful and the good in life."—Christian Union.

My Governess Life: Or Earning my Living. By Mrs. E. R. PITMAN. With 4 full-page Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"Full of sound teaching and bright examples of character."—Sunday-school Chronicle.

 BY MRS. R. H. READ.

Silver Mill: A Tale of the Don Valley. By Mrs. R. H. READ. With 6 full-page Illustrations by JOHN SCHÖNBERG. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 3s. 6d.

"A good girl's story-book. The plot is interesting, and the heroine, Ruth, a lady by birth, though brought up in a humble station, well deserves the more elevated position in which the end of the book leaves her. The pictures are very spirited."—Saturday Review.

Dora: Or a Girl without a Home. By Mrs. R. H. READ. With 6 full-page Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth elegant, 3s. 6d.

"It is no slight thing, in an age of rubbish, to get a story so pure and healthy as this."—The Academy.

Brother and Sister: Or the Trials of the Moore Family. By ELIZABETH J. LYSAGHT. With 6 full-page Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 3s. 6d.

"A pretty story, and well told. The plot is cleverly constructed, and the moral is excellent."—Athenæum.

BLACKIE'S HALF-CROWN SERIES.

Illustrated by eminent Artists. In crown 8vo, cloth elegant.

NEW VOLUMES.

The Saucy May. By HENRY FRITH.

The lively narrative of the escapades of a youth who was as little born for drowning as for hanging. After some rough fishing experiences in the North Sea, he succeeds in escaping from the foundering vessel on which he has been left, and getting on board a light-ship, where a strange discovery leads to new and fortunate adventures.

The Brig "Audacious." By ALAN COLE.

An exciting sea-yarn which includes a desperate but victorious fight with a pirate. The brig is subsequently wrecked on a curious island used by one of the neighbouring savage races as a burial place, and the rescue of the survivors is not effected until they have been reduced to extremity.

Jasper's Conquest. By ELIZABETH J. LYSAGHT.

A story in which such episodes as the discovery of a secret chamber, a boy's camp on a so-called desert island, a school-fight, and a mysterious uncle are, with other incidents, happily turned to account to enforce the need of restraining passionate impulses.

Little Lady Clare. By EVELYN EVERETT GREEN.

The little Lady Clare inherits the responsibilities of an ancestry and a family feud, but the estates and title of her father fall to the hated branch of the family. The child, however, works out for herself the problem of the divided house, which is at last united again in a romantic manner.

Sturdy and Strong: Or, How George Andrews made his Way. By G. A. HENTY.

"The history of a hero of everyday life, whose love of truth, clothing of modesty, and innate pluck carry him, naturally, from poverty to affluence. George Andrews is an example of character with nothing to cavil at, and stands as a good instance of chivalry in domestic life."—The Empire.

Gutta-Percha Willie, The Working Genius. By GEORGE MAC DONALD, LL.D.

"Had we space we would fain quote page after page. All we have room to say is, get it for your boys and girls to read for themselves, and if they can't do that read it to them."—Practical Teacher.

The War of the Axe: Or Adventures in South Africa. By J. PERCY-GROVES.

"The story of their final escape from the Caffres is a marvellous bit of writing. . . . The story is well and brilliantly told, and the illustrations are especially good and effective."—Literary World.

2/6 The Eversley Secrets. By EVELYN EVERETT GREEN.

"Is one of the best children's stories of the year."—Academy.

"A clever and well-told story. Roy Eversley is a very touching picture of high principle and unshrinking self-devotion in a good purpose, without any touch of priggishness or self-sufficiency."—Guardian.

The Lads of Little Clayton: Stories of Village Boy Life.

By R. STEAD.

"A capital book for boys. They will learn from its pages what true boy courage is. They will learn further to avoid all that is petty and mean if they read the tales aright. They may be read to a class with great profit."—Schoolmaster.

Ten Boys who lived on the Road from Long Ago to Now.

By JANE ANDREWS. With 20 Illustrations.

"The idea of this book is a very happy one, and is admirably carried out. We have followed the whole course of the work with exquisite pleasure. Teachers should find it particularly interesting and suggestive."—Practical Teacher.

"All are apt presentations in easy terms of the manners of their different ages, and all lead well up to the moral, 'It is not what a boy has, but what he is, that makes him valuable to the world and the world valuable to him.'"—Athenæum.

Winnie's Secret: A Story of Faith and Patience. By KATE

WOOD.

"A very pretty tale, with great variety of incident and subtle character study, written precisely in the style that is surest to win the hearts of young folks."—Pictorial World.

"One of the best story-books we have read. Girls will be charmed with the tale, and delighted that everything turns out so well."—Schoolmaster.

A Waif of the Sea: Or the Lost Found. By KATE WOOD.

"A very touching and pretty tale of town and country, full of pathos and interest, told in a style which deserves the highest praise for its lucid and natural ease."—Edinburgh Courier.

Insect Ways on Summer Days in Garden, Forest, Field, and Stream. By JENNETT HUMPHREYS. With 70 Illustrations.

"The book will prove not only instructive but delightful to every child whose mind is beginning to inquire and reflect upon the wonders of nature. It is capitally illustrated and very tastefully bound."—Academy.

"A charming book for young people, written in a very lively and attractive style, and well calculated to awaken an interest in insect life and habits."—Schoolmaster.

The Joyous Story of Toto. By LAURA E. RICHARDS.

With 30 humorous and fanciful Illustrations by E. H. GARRETT.

"An excellent book for children who are old enough to appreciate a little delicate humour. It should take its place beside Lewis Carroll's unique works, and find a special place in the affections of boys and girls."—Birmingham Gazette.

Miss Willowburn's Offer. By SARAH DOUDNEY.

"Miss Doudney is seen at her best in Miss Willowburn's Offer. It is a careful, well executed, and cheery study of English still life."—Academy.

"Patience Willowburn is one of Miss Doudney's best creations, and is the one personality in the story which can be said to give it the character of a book not for young ladies but for girls."—Spectator.

A Garland for Girls. By LOUISA M. ALCOTT, Author of "Little Women," &c.

"The Garland will delight our girls, and show them how to make their lives fragrant with good deeds."—British Weekly.

"These little tales are the beau ideal of girls' stories. The plots are simple and natural, but there is not a dull page in the book."—Christian World.

Hetty Gray: Or Nobody's Bairn. By ROSA MULHOLLAND.

"A charming story for young folks. Hetty is a delightful creature—piquant, tender, and true—and her varying fortunes are perfectly realistic."—World.

Brothers in Arms: A Story of the Crusades. By F. BAYFORD HARRISON.

"Full of striking incident, is very fairly illustrated, and may safely be chosen as sure to prove interesting to young people of both sexes."—Guardian.

"One of the best accounts of the Crusades it has been our privilege to read. The book cannot fail to interest boys."—Schoolmistress.

The Ball of Fortune: Or Ned Somerset's Inheritance. By CHARLES PEARCE.

"A capital story for boys. It is simply and brightly written. There is plenty of incident, and the interest is sustained throughout."—Journal of Education.

Miss Fenwick's Failures: Or "Peggy Pepper-Pot." By ESMÉ STUART.

"Esmé Stuart may be commended for producing a girl true to real life, who will put no nonsense into young heads."—Graphic.

Gytha's Message: A Tale of Saxon England. By EMMA LESLIE.

"This is a charmingly told story. It is the sort of book that all girls and some boys like, and can only get good from."—Journal of Education.

"The book is throughout most interesting, and shows in a very natural manner the rough habits and usages in Saxon England."—Schoolmistress.

My Mistress the Queen: A Tale of the 17th Century. By M. A. PAULL.

"The style is pure and graceful, the presentation of manners and character has been well studied, and the story is full of interest."—Scotsman.

"This is a charming book. The old-time sentiment which pervades the volume renders it all the more alluring."—Western Mercury.

2/6 The Stories of Wasa and Menzikoff: The Deliverer of Sweden, and the Favourite of Czar Peter.

"Both are stories worth telling more than once, and it is a happy thought to have put them side by side. Plutarch himself has no more suggestive comparison."—Spectator.

"We think very highly of this idea of giving to our younger boys, in a readable form, a series of books which will lead up to Plutarch's Lives, &c., in a year or two."—Schoolmaster.

"Wasa, with his noble deeds of heroism, will vie in interest for boys with the deeds of William Tell or of William Wallace."—Civil Service Gazette.

Stories of the Sea in Former Days: Narratives of Wreck and Rescue.

"Next to an original sea-tale of sustained interest come well-sketched collections of maritime peril and suffering which awaken the sympathies by the realism of fact. 'Stories of the Sea' are a very good specimen of the kind."—The Times.

Tales of Captivity and Exile.

"It would be difficult to place in the hands of young people a book which combines interest and instruction in a higher degree."—Manchester Courier.

Famous Discoveries by Sea and Land.

"Such a volume may providentially stir up some youths by the divine fire kindled by these 'great of old' to lay open other lands, and show their vast resources."—Perthshire Advertiser.

Stirring Events of History.

"The volume will fairly hold its place among those which make the smaller ways of history pleasant and attractive. It is a gift-book in which the interest will not be exhausted with one reading."—Guardian.

Adventures in Field, Flood, and Forest. Stories of Danger and Daring.

"One of the series of books for young people which Messrs. Blackie excel in producing. The editor has beyond all question succeeded admirably. The present book cannot fail to be read with interest and advantage."—Academy.

"All admirably told. It will be counted one of the best of the story-books that Christmas produces."—Scotsman.

Jack o' Lanthorn: A Tale of Adventure. By HENRY FRITH.

"Will hold its own with the best works of Mr. Henty and Mr. Fenn."—Morning Advertiser.

"The narrative is crushed full of stirring incident, and is sure to be a prime favourite with our boys, who will be assisted by it in mastering a sufficiently exciting chapter in the history of England."—Christian Leader.

The Family Failing. By DARLEY DALE.

"'The Family Failing' is at once an amusing and an interesting story, and a capital lesson on the value of contentedness to young and old alike."—Aberdeen Journal.

BLACKIE'S TWO-SHILLING SERIES.

With Illustrations in Colour and black and tint. In crown 8vo, cloth elegant.

NEW VOLUMES.

Susan. By AMY WALTON.

A little girl passes some days with a grand-aunt under the impression that she is quite a model child and qualified to lecture her wild little playmate into goodness. After various adventures, she finds more possibilities of evil in herself, and more good in her friend, than she had suspected.

Linda and the Boys. By CECILIA SELBY LOWNDES.

An old bachelor suddenly finds himself intrusted with the care of three small children—a girl and two boys. After amusing embarrassments, he consigns them to an elderly maiden sister, who, however, proves less maternal than her brother. At length the children succeed in adventurously escaping from bondage to the land of promise.

Swiss Stories for Children and those who Love Children. From the German of MADAM JOHANNA SPYRI.

By LUCY WHEELOCK.

Madam Johanna Spyri's studies of child-life have the charm of naturalness and freshness, and are clearly studied from the life. Behind them all is the unaccustomed Swiss background, which gives special force to such stories as those of the Rescue of Rita from the Abyss and the troubles of Toni the Woodcarver.

Adventures of Mrs. Wishing-to-be, and other Stories.

By ALICE CORKRAN.

"Simply a charming book for little girls."—Saturday Review.

"Just in the style and spirit to win the hearts of children."—Daily News.

Our Dolly: Her Words and Ways. By MRS. R. H. READ.

With many Woodcuts, and a Frontispiece in colours.

"Prettily told and prettily illustrated."—Guardian.

"Sure to be a great favourite with young children."—School Guardian.

Fairy Fancy: What she Heard and what she Saw. By MRS. R. H. READ. With many Woodcut Illustrations and a Coloured Frontispiece.

"The authoress has very great insight into child nature, and a sound healthy tone pervades the book."—Glasgow Herald.

"All is pleasant, nice reading, with a little knowledge of natural history and other matters gently introduced and divested of dryness."—Practical Teacher.

2/ Aboard the "Atalanta." The Story of a Truant. By HENRY FRITH.

"The story is very interesting and the descriptions are most graphic, and we doubt if any boy after reading it would be tempted to the great mistake of running away from school under almost any pretext whatever."—Prac. Teacher.

The Penang Pirate and THE LOST PINNACE. By JOHN C.
HUTCHESON.

"A book which boys will thoroughly enjoy. It is rattling, adventurous, and romantic, and the stories are thoroughly healthy in tone, and written by a skilful hand."—Aberdeen Journal.

"Mr. Hutcheson has no nonsense about him: his muscular straightforward style and frank simplicity of diction are far more telling than any sensational embellishments."—Perthshire Advertiser.

Teddy: The Story of a "Little Pickle." By JOHN C. HUTCHESON.

"He is an amusing little fellow with a rich fund of animal spirits, and when at length he goes to sea with Uncle Jack he speedily sobers down under the discipline of life."—Saturday Review.

"Like all little boys who fall into the water and the fire, or blow themselves up, and in later youth play truant from a ship or otherwise come to grief, Master Teddy turns out an excellent man."—Athenæum.

Four Little Mischiefs. By ROSA MULHOLLAND.

"Graphically written, and abounds in touches of genuine humour and innocent fun."—Freeman.

"A charming bright story about real children."—Watchman.

Warner's Chase: Or the Gentle Heart. By ANNIE S. SWAN.

"In Milly Warren, the heroine, who softens the hard heart of her rich uncle and thus unwittingly restores the family fortunes, we have a fine ideal of real womanly goodness."—Schoolmaster.

"A good book for boys and girls. There is nothing sentimental and no sickly goodism in it, but a tone of quiet and true religion that keeps its own place."—Perthshire Advertiser.

New Light through Old Windows. A Series of Stories illustrating Fables of Æsop. By GREGSON GOW.

"The most delightfully-written little stories one can easily find in the literature of the season. Well constructed and brightly told."—Glasgow Herald.

Little Tottie, and Two Other Stories. By THOMAS ARCHER.

"We can warmly commend all three stories; the book is a most alluring prize for the younger ones."—Schoolmaster.

Naughty Miss Bunny: Her Tricks and Troubles. By CLARA MULHOLLAND.

"This naughty child is positively delightful. Papas should not omit 'Naughty Miss Bunny' from their list of juvenile presents."—Land and Water.

“A Pair of Clogs:” And other Stories for Children. By 2/
AMY WALTON.

“These stories are decidedly interesting, and unusually true to nature. For children between nine and fourteen this book can be thoroughly commended.”—Academy.

The Hawthorns. By AMY WALTON.

“A remarkably vivid and clever study of child-life. At this species of work Amy Walton has no superior.”—Christian Leader.

Dorothy's Dilemma: A Tale of the Time of Charles I.
By CAROLINE AUSTIN.

“An exceptionally well-told story, and one that will be warmly welcomed by children. The little heroine, Dorothy Hardcastle, is a charming creation.”—Court Journal.

Marie's Home: Or, A Glimpse of the Past. By CAROLINE
AUSTIN.

“An exquisitely told story. The heroine is as fine a type of girlhood as one could wish to set before our little British damsels of the present day.”—Christian Leader.

The Squire's Grandson: A Devonshire Story. By J. M.
CALLWELL.

“A healthy tone pervades this story, and the lessons of courage, filial affection, and devotion to duty on the part of the young hero cannot fail to favourably impress all young readers.”—Schoolmaster.

Magna Charta Stories: Or Struggles for Freedom in the Olden Time. Edited by ARTHUR GILMAN, A.M. With 12 full-page Illustrations.

“A book of special excellence, which ought to be in the hands of all boys.”—Educational News.

The Wings of Courage; AND THE CLOUD-SPINNER.
Translated from the French of GEORGE SAND, by MRS. CORKRAN.

“Mrs. Corkran has earned our gratitude by translating into readable English these two charming little stories.”—Athenæum.

Chirp and Chatter: Or, LESSONS FROM FIELD AND TREE.
By ALICE BANKS. With 54 Character Illustrations by GORDON BROWNE.

“We see the humbling influence of love on the haughty harvest-mouse, we are touched by the sensibility of the tender-hearted ant, and may profit by the moral of ‘the disobedient maggot.’ The drawings by Gordon Browne are spirited and funny.”—The Times.

BLACKIE'S EIGHTEENPENNY SERIES.

With Illustrations in Colour, and black and tint. In crown 8vo, cloth elegant.

NEW VOLUMES.

1/6 Edwy: Or, Was he a Coward? By ANNETTE LYSTER.

A delicately-nurtured boy of fine instincts arrives from India to find himself in a family of sturdy but rough cousins, who speedily acquire a hearty contempt for him. By a brilliant act of courage he at last convinces his cousins and uncle that they have done him wrong.

The Battlefield Treasure. By F. BAYFORD HARRISON.

The scene of The Battlefield Treasure is laid in that corner of England made famous by the battle of Shrewsbury. The main incident is the discovery, by an old gentleman and a lad of fifteen, of a buried treasure, which in the end turns out to be something very different from what it is at first supposed to be.

Joan's Adventures, At the North Pole and Elsewhere. By ALICE CORKRAN.

Little Joan gets off one night to the land of the Esquimos, where she is chased by wolves across the ice to the North Pole and narrowly escapes being wedded to an ancient wizard. She has many other adventures of a wonderful and entrancing kind.

Filled with Gold. By JENNIE PERRETT.

A Jersey farmer, of somewhat miserly tendencies, astonishes his housekeeper by undertaking the care of a nephew's son who is in poor health. The boy soon wins their affection, but this becomes overshadowed by a mysterious theft of which he seems guilty. After stirring scenes the matter is cleared up and all ends happily.

By Order of Queen Maude: A Story of Home Life. By LOUISA CROW.

"The tale is brightly and cleverly told, and forms one of the best children's books which the season has produced."—Academy.

Our General: A Story for Girls. By ELIZABETH J. LYSAGHT.

"A young girl of indomitable spirit, to whom all instinctively turn for guidance—a noble pattern for girls."—Guardian.

Aunt Hesba's Charge. By ELIZABETH J. LYSAGHT.

"This well-written book tells how a maiden aunt is softened by the influence of two Indian children who are unexpectedly left upon her hands. Mrs. Lysaght's style is bright and pleasant."—Academy.

Into the Haven. By ANNIE S. SWAN.

"No story more attractive, by reason of its breezy freshness, as well as for the practical lessons it conveys."—Christian Leader.

Our Frank: And other Stories. By AMY WALTON.

"These stories are of the sort that children of the clever kind are sure to like."—Academy.

The Late Miss Hollingford. By ROSA MULHOLLAND.

"No book for girls published this season approaches this in the charm of its telling, which will be equally appreciated by persons of all ages."—Standard.

The Pedlar and His Dog. By MARY C. ROWSELL.

"The opening chapter, with its description of Necton Fair, will forcibly remind many readers of George Eliot. Taken altogether it is a delightful story."—Western Morning News.

Yarns on the Beach. By G. A. HENTY.

"This little book should find special favour among boys. The yarns are full of romance and adventure, and are admirably calculated to foster a manly spirit."—The Echo.

A Terrible Coward. By G. MANVILLE FENN.

"Just such a tale as boys will delight to read, and as they are certain to profit by."—Aberdeen Journal.

Tom Finch's Monkey: And other Yarns. By JOHN C. HUTCHESON.

"Stories of an altogether unexceptionable character, with adventures sufficient for a dozen books of its size."—U. Service Gazette.

Miss Grantley's Girls, And the Stories She Told Them. By THOMAS ARCHER.

"For fireside reading more wholesome and highly entertaining reading for young people could not be found."—Northern Chronicle.

Down and Up Again: Being some Account of the Felton Family, and the Odd People they Met. By GREGSON GOW.

"The story is very neatly told, with some fairly dramatic incidents, and calculated altogether to please young people."—Scotsman.

Troubles and Triumphs of Little Tim. A City Story. By GREGSON GOW.

"An undercurrent of sympathy with the struggles of the poor, and an ability to describe their feelings, eminently characteristic of Dickens, are marked features in Mr. Gow's story."—N. B. Mail.

1/6 The Happy Lad: A Story of Peasant Life in Norway. From the Norwegian of Björnson.

"This pretty story has natural eloquence which seems to carry us back to some of the love stories of the Bible."—Aberdeen Free Press.

The Patriot Martyr: And other Narratives of Female Heroism in Peace and War.

"It should be read with interest by every girl who loves to learn what her sex can accomplish in times of danger."—Bristol Times.

"A very praiseworthy series of Prize Books. Most of the stories are designed to enforce some important moral lesson, such as honesty, industry, kindness, helpfulness."—School Guardian.

THE ILLUSTRATIONS THROUGHOUT PRINTED IN COLOURS.

4to, ONE SHILLING EACH.

GORDON BROWNE'S SERIES OF OLD FAIRY TALES.

1. HOP O' MY THUMB. 2. BEAUTY AND THE BEAST. 11

Others to follow.

Each book contains 32 pages 4to, and is illustrated on every page by Pictures printed in colours.

This Series provides young people with the Old Favourite Fairy Tales, pleasingly told and very fully illustrated in a really artistic manner.

The Pictures are by GORDON BROWNE, who "stands in the very first rank as an illustrator of children's books." Every page is illustrated, and the little reader can thus follow the story step by step by the pictures alone. The Pictures are all in colour, and are graphic character illustrations of a quaint and humorous kind which will be equally relished by young and old.

The stories have been delightfully re-told by LAURA E. RICHARDS, a lady who has the rare faculty of investing the purest romance with that air of realism which is so full of charm to children.

A SERIES OF FOURPENNY REWARD BOOKS.

Each 64 pages, 18mo, Illustrated, in Picture Boards.

TESTIMONIALS.

From J. R. & R. R. KIRKHAM, Biscathorpe, Lincolnshire.
POWDER DIP.—We consider your Powder a success. We have used it on our Pure Bred Lincolns, and it gives the wool a nice appearance without injury.

From J. GIBLIN, Bardfield, Braintree, Essex.
GLYCERINE DIP.—Having tried your different Sheep Dipping Compositions, I am satisfied the Glycerine Dip is best of them all.

J. WRIGHT, Greeting, St. Mary's.
BUTTER POWDER.—I find your Powder brings Butter in half the usual time, and makes it far superior than when your Powder is not used.

TOMLINSON & HAYWARD,

ESTABLISHED 45 YEARS.

“A RELIABLE SHEEP DIP.”

Hayward's Powder Dip

Mixes at once with Cold Water.

COSTS ABOUT ONE HALFPENNY PER HEAD.

This Preparation has been thoroughly tested at home, in the Colonies, and South America, and is pronounced by many of the leading flockmasters the most perfect Dip of its kind yet introduced; there is no danger in its use, and if the instructions given on each packet are properly followed, the results will be entirely satisfactory. As well as killing all parasites and destroying their eggs, it also prevents the maggot fly striking; and is specially useful as a Summer Dip.

A pamphlet, containing testimonials and full particulars, post free.

HAYWARD'S POWDER DIP is obtainable of Chemists, &c.

On application we will send the name of Local Agent.

SAMPLE PACKET POST PAID 1/4.

In the production of this Work the Publishers have aimed at giving a really valuable and trustworthy Atlas at a reasonable price. The Political Maps will be found to give the most recent Geographical information, and the printing of all the Maps has been executed with the greatest care. Of the many Atlases which have appeared of late, it is perhaps not too much to expect that for accuracy, excellence of printing, and cheapness, "JOHNSTONS' COSMOGRAPHIC ATLAS" will take the lead over all others of a similar class.

Complete Catalogue of Atlases, Maps, Globes, Wall Illustrations, etc., posted free to any address.
